FOURTH BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS AT LINCOLN, NEBR.

To His Excellency, John H. Mickey, Governor, and the Honorable Board of Public Lands and Buildings:

Gentlemen—In accordance with the law of the state, I have the honor to submit the fourth biennial report of the Home for the Friendless.

On the 31st day of January, 1905, I was appointed by John H. Mickey, governor, superintendent of the Home for the Friendless to succeed Mrs. Sarah B. Sohus, (resigned) and assumed control of the institution on the 1st of March, just four weeks later. Mrs. Anna Mundy was appointed matron to succeed Mrs. Wm. Faulkner.

I am pleased to say that I found everything in and around the institution in a neat and tidy condition. The buildings, however, were in a bad state of repair, needing repointing and painting, new roof and gutters; the latter leaking so badly that the walls inside were damp and mouldy for weeks after a rain. This was attended to as soon as possible, pointing was done where most necessary and gutters mended. At the present time they are in good condition. The school building must be repointed and the entire structure painted and an appropriation for this work asked for.

The home consists of less than three acres of ground, on which are erected two large, two story brick buildings; one an administration building and the other a school and dormitory building. The former contains the office, superintendent's rooms, nursery, nurses' rooms, girls' dormitory, children's and employes' dining rooms, play room, kitchen and store room. The latter building contains the schoolroom, boys' dormitory, officers' and employes' rooms. Beside these, occupied by the orthopedic hospital, which was created by the last legislature and established in the Home for the Friendless, are two large wards, (formerly the schoolroom and second nursery), nurses' rooms, operating and X-ray rooms, offices, reception room, dining room, play room and sun parlor. We have also a two-story brick laundry, in the basement of which is located the boiler and engine room. The first floor is used for laundry purposes and the second floor for employes' rooms; a most dangerous place, indeed, for the seven employes who occupy these rooms, being directly over the boiler.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The small, four-room cottage in the rear of the grounds, which was built for a quarantine for the Home for the Friendless, I was obliged to use for the aged women in the home in order to make room for the nurses in the new hospital. This cottage is in charge of a home nurse who looks after the needs of these blind, crippled and helpless aged women. I have repaired the porch so that it is almost new and extends around three sides of this cottage, that these helpless ones may be wheeled out into the sunshine and pure air. This was done at an expense of $150.00.

There is also a nice barn, large enough for six cows, four head of horses and carriage space, a good wood shed and a greenhouse. These buildings have been repaired at an expense of $210.00. Later, a hail storm broke 300 panes of glass from the greenhouse and this was repaired at an additional expense.

Numerous other repairs and improvements have been made. A new and larger water main, connecting with the city water main was the first improvement necessary, as our water supply was inadequate for the two institutions. New plumbing for the bath rooms and new steam and water pipes were placed throughout the basement of the school building at an expense of $672.75. New sewer and water pipes, hot and cold, from the boiler room to school building were laid later and $278.00 was paid for this work and grading around the building. Our smoke stack, which was struck by lightning, was taken down and five lengths of new pipe were added to replace the damage done. The entire stack was painted before being raised. A small frame addition for clothing from the hospital, was built at the rear of the laundry. A new wood shed was also built. The boilers were well cleaned and the old flues were replaced by new ones at an expense of $248.60. The engine was repaired at an expense of $84.90. New steel ceilings were placed in the girls' dormitory, which was also painted and papered. Three small rooms have been partitioned and plastered for the use of the home employes in the attic of main building. The porches have all been repainted.

the woodwork inside the buildings revarnished or painted. Thus we have endeavored to keep everything in order and repaired as soon as it became necessary, for I deem it economy to stop the leaks while they are small. Our repair and improvement fund of $2,000.00 has been used to keep up the repairs of both buildings and to help establish the new hospital in the home, and at the present time is almost exhausted. A balance of $170.20 is left to do us until April 1st, 1907 and unless something unforeseen occurs, I hope to be able, with the aid of my cash fund, to get through without a deficiency in this fund.

The electric wiring in our school building is defective and is pronounced by expert electricians in a dangerous condition. Our repair fund should be increased to $5,000.00 for the next biennium that this work, the painting, repointing and wiring of school building may be done out of the repair and improvement fund.

In May, 1906, a mangle was purchased from Nelson & Kreuter Company of Chicago, at an expense of $225.00 and paid for out of our cash fund. This, with a new double geared washer bought a few months previous, and a fine new laundry stove, gives us a pretty well equipped laundry, thus enabling us to do the work for both institutions. We need the second floor of this laundry building, (now used for employes' rooms), for an ironing and a sewing room, which can be remodeled for this purpose at a very small expense and paid for from the repair and improvement fund for the next biennium. As we have but the one room now for both washing and ironing, we can wash only two days in the week, which is not sufficient to keep the degree of cleanliness we are anxious to maintain throughout both institutions.

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION.

We have endeavored by practicing the strictest economy to reach the end of this biennium without a deficiency, but find that a deficiency in our maintenance fund is inevitable. When the appropriation for the Home for the Friendless was asked for two years ago, we had no thought of maintaining another institution. From an appropriation of $7,000.00 per annum, we endeavored to maintain an average of 116 persons: (24 children, 5 nurses and 2 attendants in the orthopedic hospital, 55 children, 7 aged women, 18 employes and 5 officers in the Home for the Friendless,) on less than 17c per capita per day. This includes fuel, light, board, clothing, drugs, furniture, bedding, water rent, telephone rent, in fact everything except salaries and repairs, and was an utter impossibility without incurring a deficiency.

Our maintenance appropriation of $14,000.00 for the biennium will be exhausted before the 1st of December, 1906. I earnestly hope the next legislature will see the necessity of liberally providing for the institution that is saving and training the dependent and orphaned children of the state of Nebraska, for an honorable and useful life and also for future citizenship. Many a letter has been received from children grown to manhood and womanhood, filled with words of gratitude that our state legislature made it possible for them to have been lifted from their surroundings and cared for and trained in the ways of usefulness and right living in the Home for the Friendless.

The home and the hospital should receive the heartiest support from our legislature, that the orphaned, destitute and afflicted children may be given such care and treatment that they may become a blessing to themselves and others. There is no reason why this home should not become one of the large institutions of the state. It is the only state orphanage and should receive all the dependent and destitute children of Nebraska who knock at our door for admission. Had it been possible for me to have cared for all who sought our protection during the past eighteen months, we would have as many more children in the home as we now have. Money appropriated for the saving and training of these little ones is given for a most worthy and noble purpose and the country will reap the reward some day; not in dollars and cents, but in splendid citizenship.

The public has shown a deep interest in our home which has greatly helped and encouraged us in our work. The endeavor to carry another institution and be held responsible for the maintenance of same, without having authority in any way over the institution, has made my burden heavy. I would respectfully recommend that if the two institutions are maintained from one appropriation that they be under one management. Twenty-three iron beds and blankets, comforts, linen, etc., for thirty-nine beds has been furnished the hospital, besides tables and chairs for the dining room.

Every donation received by us has been shared by the children of the hospital. Our Christmas boxes sent by the kind ladies of our city and others interested in the Home for the Friendless were divided as equally as possible, each child receiving a doll, toy or box of candy; at other times when donations were received, the crippled children were not forgotten.

NEW APPROPRIATION.

Owing to the advanced price in nearly all provision, it will require a maintenance fund of $18,000.00 for the Home for the Friendless for the next biennium or $34,000.00 if both the orthopedic hospital and the Home for the Friendless are maintained from one fund. My estimate for the necessary appropriation is based on an average maintenance of 100, (90 children and 10 aged women) at a per capita cost of 25c per day for the Home for the Friendless and on an average maintenance of 160 inmates in both institutions, (a per capita of 35c per day for 60 patients in the hospital).

The expense for maintaining a hospital is much greater than for maintaining a home, because of the greater variety and more expensive diet required for the sick, the greater amount of heat, light, bedding, etc., necessary for their comfort.

We have found that the capacity of our home is insufficient for two institutions; separate wards are needed for the operative cases and other deformed children. Our school building is not suitable in any way for a hospital and I deem it a matter of great importance that the orthopedic hospital have a separate building with broad verandas where the crippled might be wheeled into the sunshine and fresh air. I am sure it is not to the best interest of either institution that the sick and the well children be housed in the same building. We need the space occupied by the hospital to successfully carry on the work necessary in the home.

Our school building in which the orthopedic hospital is placed, would need nearly as much of an appropriation to remodel it for the purpose of a hospital as it would cost to build a cottage exactly suited to their needs. The same heating plant could be used to heat both institutions, and I think it would be as cheap, if not cheaper, to have our light furnished from the city than to run our own dynamo. The institutions are lighted by the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light Co., at the average cost of $600.00 per annum. We could not hire an electrician for that money, to say nothing of board and other expenses attendant on running a dynamo, besides having all night as well as all day service, which is quite an object because of our dark stairways, basement kitchen, dining rooms, operating room, etc.

Another improvement absolutely necessary is the building of a bath room for the girls' dormitory on the south side of the original building. From twenty to twenty-five little girls from four to twelve years of age, sleep in this dormitory and all have felt the need of a bath and toilet near at hand; in case of night sickness, these little girls are obliged to go down two flights of stairs to the basement bath room. This addition, 14x20 ft., two-story and basement, would give three rooms very much needed in the institution, i. e., girls' bath room on the second floor, matron's linen room and dry goods store room on the first floor; (at the present time we are using a part of an enclosed porch) and a cold storage room in the basement. This latter, the institution should never have been without. The quantity of ice melted by having the refrigerators in the hot kitchen for the past ten years, would nearly pay for the building of the whole addition, to say nothing of the great saving to the state in the way of purchasing our butter, eggs, etc., when cheap and keeping them in cold storage. We could also buy meat in larger quantities at cheaper prices and it would allow greater store room capacity so that we could purchase our groceries in larger quantities, instead of giving a small order each day to retail dealers, as it is necessary for us to do at the present time. I am sure that both our governor and your honorable board will not hesitate to make this recommendation, for you certainly will see the great necessity for these improvements for the home. This addition could be built for $2,500.00 and would not only be the source of much comfort for all concerned, but would be a great saving to the state as well.

Inasmuch as the time for small wages for competent help has passed, I would recommend that higher salaries be paid our officers, whose salaries were made by statute ten years ago. Our teacher, who has carried the extra work of kindergarten with her grade work, on account of dispensing with kindergarten teacher because of lack of room, has been teaching for $25.00 per month. I would urge that a salary of $40.00 per month or an appropriation of $960.00 be allowed the teacher for the biennium ending Mar. 31st, 1909.

The engineer has worked for $40.00 per month and has also attended to the greenhouse and looked after the gardening, without extra pay. I would ask that he receive not less than $50.00 per month or $1,200.00 for the biennium.

The head nurse, whose salary was also made by statute when wages were low, is receiving a salary of $25.00 per month. She must be a nurse of experience and her salary should be raised to $35.00 per month or $840.00 for the biennium.

The superintendent's salary should be restored to $1,000.00 per annum, the amount made by statute for salary of superintendent when the Home for the Friendless became a state institution.

An appropriation of $3,500.00 per annum was allowed by the legislature of 1904 and 1905 for employes' wages for the Home for the Friendless and when the new hospital was placed with us, I felt the great need of more help and a consequent greater appropriation. A few facts will enable your honorable board to readily see the condition that confronted us. Our two cooks, who did the work for the home, were asked to prepare meals for forty (40) more people, diets for the sick, etc., without extra help or pay. Our three women in the laundry were asked to do the laundry work for the hospital, which more than doubled their already heavy work, at the same pay and with one extra employe. Our dining-room girls took an extra burden and if you will compare our pay roll and our salaries with those of other institutions, you will find we pay a much less salary to our teacher, engineer, head nurse, head laundress, head cook and other employes filling similar positions.

In order to get through without a deficiency, our little children, (none of them over ten years of age), were detailed to help in departments where help was most needed, and by hiring mothers at a low wage and caring for their children, I shall be able to reach the end of the biennium without a deficiency in this fund. Properly, our monthly pay roll amounts to $392.00 and we should have at least $9,000.00 appropriated for employes' wages for the biennium, to meet the advanced wages paid all kinds of help. We need the best help we can possibly secure. Children are imitators and we must have a good moral element in our institution as the little ones are oftentimes associated with the help in the various departments. A little girl of nine years of age had charge of the superintendent's dining room all summer and I venture the assertion that there is not a young lady twice her age in the city of Lincoln who could wait on a table with greater nicety and composure than did this little girl. When school opened, I was obliged to hire an employe to fill the position.

MORE GROUND NEEDED.

I would respectfully call the attention of your honorable Board of Public Lands and Buildings and the legislature which will soon convene, to the necessity of purchasing ground to be used for a garden for the institution. The five lots adjoining the home on the west and extending from the home grounds to 10th street, can be bought for $2,000.00. The purchase of this property would open the alley to us from 10th street. A strip of land thirty feet wide adjoining the home grounds on the west and extending from South street for several blocks south, excludes us from the use of the alley and oftentimes our exits have been blocked. Our only entrance and exit proper is from our gate on 11th street and our cramped room makes it almost impossible for teams with loads to turn around.

The eight (8) lots adjoining on the south can be purchased at the present time for $1,800.00 and the chance of securing them should not be allowed to pass. The purchase of this property will give useful and profitable employment to the children. I have rented these adjoining lots for the past two years for a garden and feel the great need of having this property for the home. There is not a garden spot in the home grounds.

In the year, 1905, the children raised on these lots all the vegetables, except potatoes, that were used in the institution from early spring until the middle of September. We raised onions, radishes, lettuce, peas, beans, beets, spinach, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, and tomatoes. This past year, 1906, the season was not so favorable and we had many more to feed, but it has helped us greatly in our living expenses.

The nineteen lots adjoining or lying adjacent to the home grounds, including two neat little cottages, can be bought for $10,000.00. This is exceedingly cheap, being less than $360.00 per lot and should become the property of the home. I would therefore recommend that $10,000.00 be appropriated for the purchase of this property.

CHILDREN IN THE HOME.

On the 1st day of March, 1905, there were seven (7) aged women and seventy-nine (79) children in the home; more than one-half of this number were children placed here temporarily until such times as their hard-working, widowed mothers could establish a home for them.

The amendment to the appropriation bill for the Home for the Friendless in 1905, cut off from the support of the home, all the half orphaned, destitute children for whom the home was originally designed. For a quarter of a century, the Home for the Friendless has cared for the deserted and dependent, half-orphan children. It is the pioneer institution for the destitute children of the state of Nebraska. In 1897, it became a state institution. Many of its wards are living in different parts of the state and are among our most useful and respected citizens.

Before placing a child in a home, recommendations are required from people who know the home life of the parties desiring to adopt a child and who can vouch for them as good, moral and temperate people, capable of raising a child and financially able to care for one.

Since Dec. 1st., 1904, I have received into the home, 154 children and placed out in homes for adoption or indenture, 48, others placed in homes to work for their board, schooling and clothing, 104, making a total for whom homes were found of 152. Sixteen deaths occurred during the two years. Our experience teaches us that children from five to ten years of age are not desirable in homes for adoption, hence we have them to care for and educate until they are old enough to return some service for their board and clothing.

When children are placed in homes, a trial period is given, during which time the foster parents have the privilege of returning the child to the home, should it prove unsatisfactory. We reserve the right to recall the child if it becomes necessary to do so after four months trial.

I consider the responsibility of placing a child, very great, for I feel that the destiny of the child, in a great measure, lies in my hands and great care has been exercised in the placing of our children. We cannot always depend upon recommendations. They are sometimes easily secured, so it becomes my duty to visit the home of each child placed, before the final papers are drawn up. A child placed in a home for adoption should be under the supervision of the home until he is at least sixteen years of age, to guard against any possible ill treatment and visited at least once a year by the superintendent or visiting agent. I have visited most of the homes and feel that the majority of the children placed during the past eighteen months have indeed been fortunate; but six of the number placed in homes have been returned, which shows that the people are satisfied with their choice. Of this number, three were recalled by the superintendent because of failure to live up to agreement.

Besides the wards of the state eligible for adoption, we have endeavored to care for a number of half-orphaned, destitute children who came to us from different parts of the state with nowhere to call home. Time and again have poor mothers come to our door, accompanied by four or five little ones whose pinched and haggard faces told too plainly the story of cruel abuse, pleading that her children might have the care and protection of the Home for the Friendless until such times as she would be able to establish a home for them.

Then again, a father would bring a young, motherless babe and ask that it be cared for until he could find work, after weeks spent in caring for a sick wife. We have in our home, a family of four motherless little children under ten years of age, whose father after successive years of financial misfortune and now suffering from the effects of a recent stroke of apoplexy, is unable to provide a home for them. It was the last request of wife and mother that her little ones be not separated and the father is still hoping that some day he will be able to maintain his little family.

Following is a letter sent by one of the county judges in our state, pleading for a destitute family:

MAY 11, 1906.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS, LINCOLN, NEBR.

Dear Madam—We have a family of five children in this county, the oldest of whom is about seven years of age. The father is a drunken, worthless fellow. The mother has left him, but is wholly destitute of means to support the children and herself. She is able to work and could probably support them if they were not so young as to require the constant care of someone. Please let me know if this condition of affairs brings them within the rules for admission to your home. Upon inquiry I learn that the family during the past winter have slept on straw without ticks and have had very little to subsist upon and this is apparent from the appearance of the children. They are of Bohemian nationality and nothing was known of their condition until the woman came to town the other day, carrying two of the children and presenting a most pitiful sight. If the children are admitted to your institution, the woman would like to know if she could get them back again in case she became able to support them.

Very truly yours,

County Judge.

These are the half-orphaned and destitute children for whom no provision was made by the last legislature. I could not steel my heart against the entreaties of these unfortunate poor, particularly the little helpless children whom I feel it my mission to save. Realizing the worth of a child and knowing the temptations that come to children brought up on the street, concluded that rather than have them sent to other institutions because they had fallen into crime, I would open our doors and place them under the care and guidance of kind and interested instructors who encourage a general development of character, until such times as they may be placed in homes where they could work for their board and clothing and go to school.

I indeed feel grateful to you, gentlemen of the Board of Public Lands and Buildings for your kindly advice and assistance in this matter by approving rules and regulations for the home that allowed me to assist these dependent and destitute little ones.

I have collected into a cash fund from various sources, money to help provide these little ones with food until such times as our legislators shall see the need of caring for and protecting these fatherless or motherless destitute children. I have often thought that if our law makers could but witness just a little of the distress that is brought to our door, their generous hearts would respond and the doors of the Home for the Friendless would swing open to every destitute and dependent child in the state of Nebraska.

I would therefore respectfully urge that the Home for the Friendless be recognized as the state home for dependent and neglected children and that the county judges of each county in the state be advised by the superintendent who shall receive such instructions from the Board of Public Lands and Buildings, that this institution will receive free of charge, any dependent, neglected or maltreated child living in the state of Nebraska, under the age of fifteen years, of sound mind and body and who has no contagious disease. Thus will the little dependent or maltreated children be saved from the alarming traffic in children and helped through the elevating influences of the home, into lives of honor and usefulness.

SANITARY CONDITION.

The sanitary condition of the home is good with the exception of one bath room that has no outside ventilation. We have had comparatively little sickness considering that we have the two extremes in life under our care; our youngest, a babe a few hours old, the oldest, eighty-two years and both almost equally helpless.

With no place in the institution for isolating or quarantining our sick, we have been fortunate in not having more serious illness and more fatal results. Anyone familiar with the work and who has seen the frail little pieces of humanity that come to us, cannot but realize the difficulty in making them strong children who will be desirable for adoption. We are proud, however, of the number of little ones scattered in homes throughout the state, who were saved by untold labor and watchfulness and to the nurses who have spared no effort in doing all that could be done and have worked for small salaries, belongs unstinted praise.

When a child recovering from measles, came to our nursery, we were confronted with the problem of nowhere for detention or isolation and it was but a matter of less than two weeks when seventeen babies broke out with measles and oh, the pity of it. In less than five weeks time, one by one succumbed to measles or its complication, until six of our sweetest babes were laid side by side in the Home for the Friendless lot at Wyuka. Our physician, Dr. May L. Flanagan, was out of the state, but other physicians responded to the call and all that medical skill and human hands could do was done, but to no avail, all the deaths occurring among those less than seven months old.

Again, having nowhere to isolate a case of typhoid fever, our only recourse was to move his bed out of the dormitory into the hall where twenty-five boys passed many times daily. A trained nurse from the city was hired and every possible means of disinfection was used. To the credit of both physician and nurse, the lad recovered after an illness of five weeks and not another case of fever developed.

Our scarlet fever patient also recovered and I am pleased to say this was the only case we had in the home. At the present time there is not a case of sickness in the home.

In conclusion, I desire to thank the officers and employes of the home for their uniform courtesy and kindness and commend them for their fidelity and zeal in serving the best interests of the institution.

To our matron, Mrs. Anna Mundy, am I deeply grateful for the services she has rendered in the economical management of her department and for her hearty co-operation in all that pertains to the best welfare of the home.

Dr. May L. Flanagan, the home physician for the past six years, has shown a deep interest in her work and has been most faithful indeed, rarely a day in all this time that she has not visited the institution one or more times. She has displayed rare skill in her treatment of the sick and I tender thanks to her for her efficient aid.

To our Advisory Board, I extend my heartfelt thanks for the words of encouragement and cheer they have given from time to time and for the deep interest manifested in our work among these hapless little ones.

We are indebted also to many of our citizens, the ladies of Lincoln, and the ministers of our city for their many kindly acts that have brought so much cheer to the hearts of our little children and for their assistance in religious services.

I wish to acknowledge my appreciation of the honor conferred and the confidence imposed in me by his excellency, John H. Mickey, governor, who appointed me superintendent of one of the most important institutions in the state: that of home and school, where children are raised from lives of neglect and error, reclaimed and trained for the future citizenship of our state.

To you, gentlemen of the Board of Public Lands and Buildings, do I owe much for whatever measure of success may have attended my efforts. Our crowded condition, coupled with inadequate financial support to care for two institutions, has made my burden unusually heavy. Your valuable aid so cheerfully given and your hearty co-operation in furthering the interests of our institution have been greatly appreciated. For the many courtesies extended to me in the past, for your kindly sentiments and deep interest in our work, I tender my grateful acknowledgment and sincere thanks.

MRS. EMMA C. JOHNSTON, Supt.
